Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser, P.C. Names New Associate

Computer Scientist Joins Patent Law Firm

Garden City, NY -- Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser, P.C., a leading Intellectual Property Law firm, has announced that Eunhee Park, a Computer Scientist, has joined the firm as an Associate. Prior to joining Scully Scott, Park was a Systems Programmer at Burroughs and a Software Engineer at Unisys.

"We're very pleased that Eunhee Park has joined Scully Scott," said Paul Esatto, Senior Partner at Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser, P.C. "Her training and experience in the fields of computers and software will add to our successful practice in those areas." Esatto added, "Park is a great addition to our already strong technology team. She'll help us meet the growing demand for our legal services."

"This is my second time joining Scully Scott," said Eunhee Park. "I left some time ago to join a large, full-service law firm in New York City. After commuting for several years, I discovered that I missed the quality of life that a boutique intellectual property law firm on Long Island can provide, and decided to return to Scully Scott."

Park's practice is concentrated in all aspects of patent procurement -- both domestic and foreign -- specializing in the areas of computers, software, and business methods. She has regularly counseled clients in intellectual property matters with a focus on patents and is also experienced in providing opinions relating to freedom to operate, patent infringement, validity, and patentability.

Park received her B.A. in Computer Science from Barnard College, Columbia University and her J.D. from Brooklyn Law School, where she was on the editorial staff of the Brooklyn Journal of International Law.

Park is admitted to the New York State Bar and is registered to practice before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.
