Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser, P.C. Names New Associate

Materials Scientist Returns to Patent Law Firm

Garden City, NY -- Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser, P.C., a leading Intellectual Property Law firm, has announced that Harry Hild, a Materials Scientist, has returned to the firm as an Associate. Prior to rejoining Scully Scott, Hild managed all aspects of the intellectual property portfolio of the automotive divisions of one of the world's largest aluminum companies. Prior to that Hild, started his career as an attorney at Scully Scott.

"We're very happy that Harry has rejoined Scully Scott," said Paul Esatto, Senior Partner at Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser, P.C. "His training and experience in the field of Materials Science will further enhance our already strong practice in those areas." Esatto added, "Hild is an important addition to our deep technology team. He'll assist us in meeting the growing worldwide demand for our legal services. Hild is the third attorney that has recently returned to Scully Scott after departing to work elsewhere. That has positive implications for us."

Hild's intellectual property law practice includes patent application drafting and prosecution in a wide variety of arts, including inorganic chemistry, semiconducting devices, metallurgy, ceramics, glass, and coatings, as well as mechanical and electro-mechanical arts; intellectual property portfolio planning and management; clearance, patentability, and infringement opinion rendering; and preparing intellectual property agreements, such as patent licensing, joint and research development agreements, and confidentiality agreements. Mr. Hild is also experienced in the management of foreign patent practice and management of European patent oppositions.

Hild received his B.S. in Materials Science with a Concentration in Ceramics from the N.S. College of Ceramics at Alfred University. He received his J.D. and Masters in Intellectual Property from Franklin Pierce Law Center.

Hild was admitted to the N.Y. State Bar and the Pennsylvania State Bar. Hild is registered to practice before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (U.S.P.T.O).
