Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser Names New Associate

Environmental Engineer Joins Patent Law Firm

Garden City, NY -- Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser, a leading Intellectual Property Law firm, has announced that Drew Berweger, an Environmental Engineer, has joined the firm as an Associate. Prior to joining Scully Scott, Berweger was an intern with General Electric Global Research, where he prepared and prosecuted patent applications. He also worked with Syracuse University Technology Transfer Office, doing patent and market research.

"We're very pleased that Drew Berweger has joined Scully Scott," said Peter Bernstein, Partner at Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser. "His training and experience in the fields of Environmental Engineering and Chemistry will add to our successful practice in those areas." Bernstein added, "Berweger is a strong addition to our already deep technology team, allowing us to add to our client base and meet the growing demand for our legal services."

Berweger will practice in all aspects of patent preparation and prosecution, with technical expertise in chemistry, semi-conducting devices, metallurgy, materials and coatings.

Berweger received his B.S. (magna cum laude) in Environmental Engineering from Manhattan College and his J.D. from Syracuse University College of Law, receiving a certificate in Technology Commercialization.

Berweger is admitted to the New York Bar and is registered to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office. He is a member of the American Intellectual Property Law Association.
