Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser Names New Associate

Martha Rumore Joins Firm

Garden City, NY -- Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser, a leading Long Island Intellectual Property Law firm, has announced that Martha Rumore has joined the firm as an Associate. Prior to joining Scully Scott, Rumore was an associate at Hedman & Costigan, P.C. Prior to that she was an Associate Professor at Long Island University and an Associate Director at Sterling Drug Inc.

Paul Esatto, Senior Partner at Scully, Scott, Murphy & Presser said, "We're very pleased that Martha Rumore has joined the firm. Her training and experience in food, drug, cosmetic and pharmaceutical arts will enhance our Intellectual Property practice in those areas -- as well as in the areas of medicinal chemistry and biotechnology." Esatto continued, "Adding Martha's skills to our significant team of technology experts will help us grow the firm and meet the expanding demand for our legal services.

Rumore will assist in patent prosecution and opinions for a variety of U.S. and international Scully Scott clients, particularly in the areas of pharmaceuticals, drugs, cosmetics, foods, medicinal chemistry, biotechnology, and microsphere and liposome technology.

Rumore earned a B.S. degree in Pharmacy and a Pharm.D from St. John's University, an M.S. in Drug Information & Biomedical Communication from Long Island University, and a J.D. from City University of New York.

Rumore is admitted to practice law in New York, New Jersey and Washington D.C., and registered to practice in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. She is a registered Pharmacist in New York, Connecticut, and Florida.
